

Transition from school to college

This module is designed to provide effective transition planning for young people on the autism spectrum.

3
Hours

Who is this training for?

This training is suitable for all practitioners working as a team around a young person with autism transitioning from school to college. These may include anyone working in:

- colleges
- schools
- local authorities

What will you learn?

- To identify actions to support young people on the autism spectrum to complete a successful move from school to college (transition).
- To provide you with approaches and strategies to support transition.
- To enhance your understanding of how to build partnerships with key stakeholders in the transition process. These include young people, their families and other service providers.
- To enable you to improve outcomes for young people on the autism spectrum, both as they move from school to college and from college into adult life.

Developed by leading autism specialists

Up to date with the latest research

Case studies

Free resources and frameworks linked to Ofsted

Practical strategies

Hub name

Date

Time

Details

Free to professionals working with children and young people in B&NES

Book your training now:

Email us at aet@fossewayschool.com
Call us on 01761 412198 option 2

